The flood reached its height at 7 a.m. today, inundating most of the flats of the Old Man River bottom and driving about 60 persons from their homes.

Destroyer's Feat Praised

LONDON (CP)—An official source said today the fall of the Madagascar port of Antsirane was precipitated by the "extremely gallant exploit" of a British destroyer which slid through the narrow, mined entrance to Diego Suarez Bay under fire of French batteries and landed 50 marines. Antsirane surrendered May 5.

Farm Committee 'Invites' Hanson

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons agriculture committee today voted 23 to 8 to invite Conservative House Leader Hanson to appear before it in connection with statements on Canadian Wheat Board operations which he made in the House last March.

The decision to invite him followed debate by members, with Conservative members opposed to any suggestion that Mr. Hanson be required to appear.

The Conservative House leader, during the House wheat debate, had questioned board authority in purchasing wheat from producers and its dealings in respect to futures.

Rommel Withdrawn From Libya Front

LONDON (CP)—Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has been withdrawn from his command of German forces in Libya and may be given a command on the eastern front, Reuters news agency has reported in a dispatch from the German frontier.

The dispatch said Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, who has been directing the air attack on Malta from Sicily, also had left Italy and that German air strength in the Mediterranean was being withdrawn to other fronts.

No Gas for 2nd Car Bought Since Monday

OTTAWA (CP)—A motorist already in possession of a gasoline license for a private passenger car will not be allowed gasoline for any category "A" car he may purchase, it was announced Tuesday by the Department of Munitions and Supply.

The order applies only to a car purchased since Monday. It prevents anyone from circumventing the intention of the rationing order by purchasing an additional car in his own name or in the name of a relative. The provisions of the order could be waived by the controller to meet exceptional circumstances.

Anyone who Monday had two cars in his possession, or one owned by himself and another by some relation or relative in the same household, is not affected by the order. The two licenses will remain in force.

Take Strike Vote

VANCOUVER (CP)—Nigel Morgan, International Woodworkers of America organizer, said this afternoon that first returns from logging camps producing airplane spruce in the Queen Charlotte Islands show an overwhelming majority of loggers favor a strike if conciliation and arbitration proceedings for union recognition now pending fail. Returns from four of seven camps show 176 in favor of a strike and 6 against.

U.S. Sub Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction of 200,000 tons more of submarines in a move to beat the Axis at its own game is authorized in a bill signed into law today by President Roosevelt. Just how many submarines the measure will add to the United States' expanding fleet is a military secret, but Chairman Carl Vinson (Dem.-Georgia) of the House naval committee has said that it would provide for "more than 100."

Wins Scholarships

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Winners of scholarships announced at Queen's University Tuesday include: W. H. Near scholarship in classics—$50, M. P. Connell, Victoria; and arts scholarship in history—$75, M. P. Connell, Victoria.

BAG 15 GERMANS

CAIRO (AP)—Thirteen Junkers 52's, the German troop-carrying planes, and two of their Messerschmitt escorts were shot down Tuesday into the sea off north Africa, the R.A.F. announced today. Still others may have been destroyed, the communiqué said, with only one British plane lost.

(There was no word whether the German planes were bound when the R.A.F. intercepted them. The Junkers 52, carrying a score or more troops, has been used in all the German invasion campaigns to date, both for paratroopers and for the transport of regular infantrymen to hot spots.)

COASTAL 'DIM-OUT'—From the Santa Maria River to the Oregon border, the California coast, mapped here, has orders for a nightly "dim-out" or complete blackout of all lights visible from the sea. Naval and civilian defence officials ordered the precautionary measure as "necessary by the accentuated submarine menace created by the shoreline silhouetting of American ships." This does not mean, however, that coastal areas will be blacked out completely.

'Grave Questions' Raised

Vichy Sends Reply To Martinique Note

VICHY (AP)—The Vichy government announced tonight it had sent a reply to a United States note concerning Martinique, which "has given rise to grave questions."

(The U.S. government has taken the position that its communications concerning Martinique were addressed only to Admiral Robert, as the authority capable of dealing with the issue raised, and not to Vichy. The French communiqué, however, implies that Robert forwarded them to Vichy.)

The communiqué follows: "The American government communicated to the French government on May 5, through the intermediary of Admiral (Georges) Robert, high commissioner of France in the Antilles, a note containing new demands tending to modify the status of the Antilles at present in force. "Problems such as those put

FAMED MONTCALM HELPING RUSSIA

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian icebreaker Montcalm has arrived safely in northern Russia and will remain at the service of the Soviet government for the duration of the war, it was announced today by the Department of External Affairs.

The Montcalm is a ship of 1,432 gross tons and has been in the Canadian service for many years on the St. Lawrence River and Atlantic coast.

The ship sailed from Canada under the command of Capt. F. S. Slocumbe of Toronto, one of the permanent officials of the Department of Transport, and with a crew of 60 officers and seamen all signed up in Canada.

The master and crew were to deliver the ship to the Russians, who will operate it themselves. The Canadians are expected back in Canada shortly.

Final arrangements regarding the financial aspect of the transfer have not been settled and officials were unable to say whether the ship is being sold or chartered to Russia.

Pope Makes Another Appeal For Peace

VATICAN CITY (From Vatican Broadcasts, AP)—Pope Pius XII in a broadcast today declared, "We make another appeal for peace to all people without exception."

Speaking on the 25th anniversary of his consecration as an archbishop, the Pope said:

"Even before the outbreak of war and during the war I always worked with all my power for peace, and I am now giving once more a message of peace."

"I address myself with complete impartiality to all concerned."

At another point he said: "I know that any practical suggestion is likely to offend either one or the other."

"While one side bases its hopes on results achieved, the other side bases its hopes on the outcome of future events."

"While there is no immediate hope of peace, the destruction caused by war is forever accumulating."

"We make this appeal today with greater insistence in view of the menace of greater destructive weapons."

He then urged statesmen to miss no opportunity to make a "peace of justice and moderation."

PEOPLE'S DUTIES

He continued: "To the leaders of nations we give paternal warning. Do not seduce the people from the higher call of duty. Do not take children away from the beneficial guardianship of parents."

"Wise leaders of nations will not fail to heed to this appeal—not out of weakness but out of wisdom."

He said that "Christians are suffering great hardships in the pursuit of their faith," and "more tears have flowed from the misfortunes and hardships of this war than in the whole course of humanity."

He urged a peace "of justice and moderation, even if this should not comply with the full aspirations of all."

U.S. Admiral Received By King and Queen

LONDON (CP)—The King today received in audience Admiral Harold Stark, commander of the United States fleet in European waters. Later the admiral, with Ambassador and Mrs. John Winant, lunched with the King and Queen.

BRITISH SCORCH THE EARTH IN BURMA—With a heavy sledge a British soldier smashes electrical machinery at Yenangyaung, Burma, against a background of blazing oil wells, as Japs raced to prevent their destruction. The Yenangyaung power plant, completely destroyed by the British before they retired, produced power for the production of 85 per cent of Burma's oil. The machinery is irreplaceable in wartime. Picture was radioed from Cairo to London, cabled from London to New York to this coast.

Nazi Victory Claims Denied

Reds Say Battle Of Kerch Still On

Associated Press
The battle for Kerch, gateway to the oil-rich Caucasus, was developing steadily today, but the Russians gave no hint of any major Nazi success in this strongest attack the Germans thus far have made this spring.

(The German high command claimed the battle to break through the Kerch Isthmus had been concluded with capture of 40,000 Russians and "annihilation of enemy forces which have been overrun and encircled there.")

Soviet communiques reported stubborn fighting on the Crimean Peninsula, of which Kerch is a sort of panhandle, but for two days have declared nothing of importance has occurred.

The attack was evidently a far cry from the dashing offensives which the Germans launched at this season in western Europe in 1940 and in the Balkans in 1941.

No Nazi Drive Along Whole Front

Foreign military experts at Berne today said that regardless of various new weapons being employed by the Germans, including new types of bombers and fighters, there are indications Germany still is not able to launch her long-predicted big drive.

The present Kerch offensive was described as an effort to gain more favorable fighting positions to launch the big offensive.

Kerch, next to Leningrad and Moscow, is reported to be the most heavily fortified of Russian positions and is necessary to the Germans if they are to jump off for the Caucasus.

But Berlin military spokesmen's remarks left the inference Germany has abandoned any plan for a concerted drive on all the eastern fronts.

Following the Kerch offensive, if it succeeds, a Berlin spokesman declared, "the undertaking on the central position of the front will be just as important."

Gaps Not Filled Yet By Germans

The reason for Germany's limiting her efforts, according to credible foreign informants, are: (1) The Axis armies have been unable to fill the gaps in men and material lost during the winter; (2) Germany's allies, especially Rumania, Hungary and Italy, are still behind in putting new divisions into the field; (3) Transport of men and material is going forward at a slower pace than planned because of damaged communications; (4) Differences between the Nazi Party elite troops and the regular army generals have not been fully resolved; and (5) The drive at home to prepare the home front for new efforts and new sacrifices has not reached the climax expected.

German broadcasts from Berlin today said the high command asserted that in addition to the prisoners taken in the Kerch battle 197 Russian tanks, 598 guns and 260 aircraft had been captured or destroyed in the five-day campaign.

Wave after wave of German dive-bombers were employed in the battle, the high command said, while a German correspondent in a broadcast said more than 2,000 of this type aircraft were employed.

Yunnan Battle Unchanged

Japs Open New Front On Thailand Border

CHUNGKING (AP)—Japanese troops opening up a new front by advancing northward up the Mekong River from Thailand into the Burma-Thailand-Indo-China border region, have occupied the town of Hongluk and pressed on toward Mongko, where the Chinese engaged them, a Chinese communiqué reported today.

Another Japanese column pushing eastward against the Chinese is still engaged at Kongkum on the Salween River, the communiqué reported.

The present situation was clouded, since the Chinese acknowledged reports from those isolated areas were six to seven days old.

CUT JAP LINES

On the older front in north Burma, Chinese attacks have succeeded in cutting Japanese communication lines between Mandalay and Lashio and Bhamo and Myitkyina, the Chinese announced, thus isolating advanced Japanese forces.

The Chinese command said there is "no change on the Yunnan front," referring to the situation along the Burma Road, where Japanese forces have driven well into southwestern China.

The communiqué said "the Japanese on the Mekong River, after reaching Hawngluk, now are attacking Mongko; another Japanese column is attacking via Mongpalai."

(The meaning of this is not clear. The Mekong forms part of the Burma-French Indo-China border, but there have been no reports of fighting in that area recently. If the Japanese have reached the upper part of the Mekong in Yunnan province they are much deeper into Chinese territory than previously reported.)

(Available maps do not show the towns named.)

AKYAB BOMBED

NEW DELHI (CP)—R.A.F. bombers made a heavy attack on the Akyab airfield in Burma early today, a communiqué announced.

Heavy bombs dropped from high levels fell among dispersed Japanese aircraft, at least two of which were probably destroyed and one damaged, the communiqué said.

2 Men Missing Thought Trapped As Ship Struck

OTTAWA (CP)—Navy Minister Macdonald announced this afternoon in the House of Commons the loss of a second ship by submarine attack in the St. Lawrence River.

Loss of one ship was announced Tuesday in a press statement from the minister.

The second ship was sunk in about the same waters and about the same time as the first, Mr. Macdonald told the House.

(A Canadian Press correspondent at a St. Lawrence River point said he had been informed two men are missing from the first torpedoing announced by the Navy Minister. A survivor was reported to have said that the two men had been asleep in their quarters near the bow of the ship. It was believed they were injured by the first of two torpedoes which crashed into the vessel.)

SETS PRECEDENT

The two sinkings are the first time enemy submarine action has ever been reported in St. Lawrence waters although in the first Great War enemy submarines sank some ships off the Nova Scotia coast.

In announcing the second St. Lawrence sinking, Mr. Macdonald recalled that Tuesday he had laid down the rule that no more information of sinkings in that area would be given unless it was apparent that the information would not aid the enemy.

That policy would be pursued but in this instance the two sinkings really constituted one instance.

NAZI BROADCASTS

All German news broadcasts were heard in the navy department, Mr. Macdonald said, and this morning the Germans had broadcast the St. Lawrence sinking with great satisfaction, stressing the fact this was the greatest distance from home that a submarine had operated.

The broadcast had announced the sinking had caused "great consternation" in Canada, so much so the government had decided not to disclose any further information on sinkings.

This indicated the necessity of refraining from publication of information that would benefit the enemy.

WHERE WAS NAVY?

T. L. Church, Con., Toronto-Broadview, asked if the government was aware that "for nearly two years" German submarines had been sheltering in deep inlets and harbors of the French islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon and sinking Atlantic shipping.

"I want to know if my honorable friend states that to be the case," said Mr. Macdonald. "We want something more than innuendo and gestures."

"Where was your navy when all this was going on?" Mr. Church asked.

Mr. Macdonald said, with regard to the possibility of submarines sheltering on the Atlantic coast: "I don't know and my honorable friend does not know if any U-boats are based on this side of the Atlantic."

LONG RANGE CRAFT

He recalled that last week he had stated in the House that it was known German submarines could leave home bases, operate several days on the Atlantic coast of Canada and the United States and return to base without refueling.

In any event, the minister added, there were no deep inlets in the French islands and he would like to know on what authority Mr. Church based his claim.

35 Canadians Listed as Held At Hongkong

OTTAWA (CP)—Names of 34 officers and one civilian auxiliary service man were reported as unofficially listed prisoners of war in an army casualty list today.

The men named are those mentioned in a message received by the external affairs department on Canadian prisoners at Hongkong and most of them are members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, one of the two Canadian battalions which fought there as part of the British garrison and which were overcome by the Japanese.

The external affairs department made the names public earlier this week. Today's list gives the home addresses in towns and cities in Canada. Two from B.C. were included, Lieut. A. S. Black, whose father, Robert Black, lives in New Westminster, and Capt. Uriah Laite, chaplain, also of New Westminster.

Only one member of the Royal Rifles of Canada of Quebec, the other Canadian battalion, is listed. He is Maj. J. H. Price of Quebec.

FROM WINNIPEG

The Manitoba regiment group in the list, presumably all officers of the Grenadiers, numbers 25, of which 17 are listed from Winnipeg.

Four officers of the Royal Canadian Army Corps, two of the Canadian Dental Corps, one of the Royal Canadian Army Pay Corps, and one of the chaplain services are on the list, all presumably men who served with the Hongkong contingent.

Information on the 35 men listed today as unofficially reported prisoners came through London from the British embassy at Chungking.

In addition to the Hongkong names, today's 104th army casualty list of the war also reported the death overseas of 10 men, the wounding overseas of one man, the dangerous illness overseas of two men and the serious illness overseas of six.

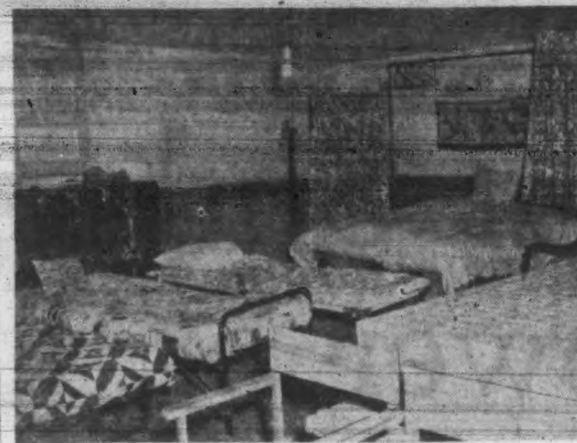

The men listed as "unofficially reported prisoner of war" were the only Hongkong casualties in today's list, a national defence department spokesman said. The rest were casualties in other overseas countries where Canadians serve.

Today's overseas army deaths raised to 654 the total number of army casualties officially reported since the war began.

Mr. Knepp said he would welcome neighbors to his shelter in the event of an attack.

11 Quebec M.P.'s Not at Caucus

OTTAWA (CP)—Eleven Quebec Liberal members of the House of Commons have issued a statement saying they were not present at the Liberal caucus Tuesday which approved a resolution declaring unbounded confidence in Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The statement handed to the press by Maxime Raymond, member for Beauharnois-Laprairie, said the 11 signers of the statement were: Mr. Raymond, Jean Francois Pouliot, Temiscouata; Edouard Lacroix, Beauce; Pierre Gauthier, Portneuf; J. Alphida Creté, St. Maurice-Lafleche; Charles Parent, Quebec West and South; Maurice Bourget, Levis; L. P. Lizotte, Kamouraska; Lionel Bertrand, Terrebonne; Wilfred Lacroix, Quebec-Montmorency; and Emmanuel d'Anjou, Rimouski.

Expect Battle For Australia To Resume Soon

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP)—Resumption of the air battle for Australia's outer island ramparts at an early date was predicted today by observers at advanced bases and throughout the area Allied airmen were on the alert to detect the first move of the Japanese navy to renew the Battle of the Coral Sea, which it broke off last week.

The remnants of the first Japanese invasion fleet were believed hiding in the screen of islands, waiting for reinforcements.

Although dispersed, these units could quickly come together at the appearance of the main battle fleet, which is believed to be gathered somewhere north of the New Guinea-New Britain area.

Japan's Marshall and Caroline Islands to the north afford a screen for the movements of this fleet, which is believed to have centred its operations of late about the island of Truk.

HALT AIR ACTIVITIES

Weather conditions were reported to have limited aerial activity throughout the northeast sector of the land and sea front and no combat was mentioned in any theatre.

There was no reference in today's communique even to the Louisiana Archipelago, which has figured prominently in Allied reports since the Battle of the Coral Sea.

Norman Stockton, war correspondent of the Melbourne Herald, wrote in a dispatch from an advanced operational base that the appearance of Japanese bombers in raids Monday against Port Moresby, New Guinea, and Horn Island indicated the enemy had received reinforcements for buffeted air forces based at Rabaul, New Britain, and Lae, New Guinea.

"Since bombers were wiped from the New Guinea sky by a successful Allied 10-day campaign, only Zero fighters had been used in raids," he said.

Stockton forecast air activity would increase considerably on both sides within the next few days.

Correspondents who inquired at Allied headquarters about the absence of further news from the Philippines were told communications with the islands were cut.

MUST DESTROY ENEMY

In a broadcast today Lieut. Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, commander of Allied land forces, urged Australian and United States troops throughout the Commonwealth to devote all training energies to the "fierce development of the will to win and determination to destroy the sly aggressor."

More Canadians Reach Britain

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT (CP)—Eager to get overseas, thousands of Canadian soldiers and airmen sailed recently from this port in one of the largest Canadian reinforcement movements to cross the Atlantic in this war. Their safe arrival in Britain was announced today.

Soldiers, tanned and hardened by months of intensive training, formed the larger part of the movement with airmen, nursing sisters and fighting men from other Allied countries swelling their numbers. Included in the movement were some of the first Australian airmen ever to be completely trained in that island Dominion.

Only women in the huge movement were the nursing sisters, 121 strong, headed by Mary Jane Mercer of Weston, Ont., and more recently of Camp Borden.

The airmen were youthful products of training fields scattered across Canada.

However, the khaki uniforms outnumbered the trim blues of the air force, flooding every nook and cranny of the transports. From every province in the Dominion had they come.

From the shores of the west coast had come Sergt. H. B. Minnas, Victoria, and Pte. J. A. Turner, Port Alberni, Vancouver Island.

Winter wheat in Canada is grown chiefly in central and western Ontario, and, while a considerable quantity is used for milling flour, a large percentage of the crop is utilized for poultry and stock feeding.

No Tire Seizure

Essentials Needs Will Be Supplied

OTTAWA (CP)—New regulations affecting sale and use of pneumatic tires will be announced later this week, Munitions Minister C. D. Howe said in a statement issued through the department Tuesday night.

At the same time Mr. Howe denied reports the department is considering seizure of tires from less essential vehicles and that the government intends to commandeer about half the trucks now in operation in Canada.

Mr. Howe said the forthcoming tire regulations are designed to provide sufficient tires for vehicle owners whose needs are essential to the national economy in wartime. Promotion of the war program, protection of public health, public safety, and essential transportation, excluding home delivery, will be given priority in that order.

"From this it will be seen that the new regulations will be more drastic than any heretofore issued," said the minister. "But because they answer our present requirements, they will not call for the commandeering of tires. Such a drastic step is certainly not necessary today, and would be taken only as a last resort."

Gallup Poll On 2-pant Suits

Save Material to Make 475,000 Uniforms Yearly

TORONTO—The demise of the two-pant suit may seem to many to be one of the war's minor casualties, but to some 1,700,000 Canadian men who, studies by the Gallup Poll indicate, have been in the habit of buying them regularly, it brings a noteworthy change of wardrobe. Moreover, elimination of two pants, together with other changes ordered in men's clothing will, according to officials of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, save enough cloth in one year to make complete uniforms for every man in the armed forces. This means enough material saved to make 475,000 uniforms every year. It is therefore no picnic matter.

THE NEW SUIT

In order to find out how many persons were affected by the ban, and also how many people realized the savings at stake, the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion has been asking a cross-section of Canadian men some questions. One was:

"Have you been accustomed to buying two pairs of trousers with your suits or just one?"

On a national basis the results are: One pair, 43 per cent; two pair, 48 per cent; both, 9 per cent.

TWO-PANT PROVINCES
In all areas of Canada, save the Maritimes, more people have been buying two pairs of pants with every suit than just one. In the usually thrifty Maritime provinces, the order is reversed, and the survey shows a five-to-two ratio in favor of one pair of pants.

The provinces of Quebec and Ontario are those in which the two-pant is most deeply entrenched in the hearts of men, the ratio being about three-to-two in favor of two pants. Western provinces are just about 50-50 on the question.

Again, the two-pant is apparently more popular with the man of average income than with either the poorer or more wealthy groups, the survey shows.

The question was asked: "Do you feel the recent government legislation limiting all suits to one pair of trousers will save any material?"

Yes, 38 per cent; no, 49 per cent; don't know, 13 per cent.

Thus the largest group of Canadians do not yet realize the savings the elimination of the extra pair of trousers will allegedly make. But the man who buys most of them—that is the Canadian of average income—realizes the savings more than his fellow citizens above or below him in the economic scale. This can be seen from the following table, which breaks down the answers to the above question on the basis of income:

	Yes	No	Don't Know
Wealthy	33%	57%	10%
Average	42%	49%	9%
Poor	26%	46%	16%

CARE FOR CLOTHES

Most frequent comment of those who thought the legislation would not save money was that "the coat lasts twice as long as the trousers, and has to be wastefully scrapped when the trousers wear out." The answer of government officials to this widely-held point of view is, men will, before the war is over, men will, to a greater and greater extent, be wearing odd pants, such as flannel, with their coats. Wool would thus be saved for uniforms and other military needs. It is therefore a question of saving material at the stock pile.

In addition to this point of view, those Canadian men who feel that savings will be made by the new orders point out that today and tomorrow men will undoubtedly be taking more care of their clothes, as a result of restrictions, and therefore a national economy will be affected. Spring Brings Bigger Crowds To London

By ALLAN NICKLESON
LONDON (CP)—The cabbies waved towards milling crowds along Piccadilly Circus on a sunny afternoon and said it's "just like before the war—never saw so many people out since we had our first bombings." He was right. London is full. Her people have returned in great numbers to scenes they left as evacuees just prior to or while German bombs blitzed whole blocks of buildings.

The reason, of course, is mainly no bombs have dropped on London since last mid-summer. Too, there is the fact no place but London is home to a Londoner and the whole trend of British thought has changed in a year from a defensive position to a clamor for an offensive.

GOOD NEWS
After long suffering, the commando raids on Nazi territory and increased air offensive with waves of 300 British bombers smashing at the Axis industrial cities, have brought cheer to these people of Britain. Smashing of German city of Lubek by the R.A.F. and the R.C.A.F. was to these people the start of that long-promised offensive and at home there now is more faith than ever in the eventual victory of the United Nations.

This is not the London of last May, the London of fire and explosives and debris and dead. It is London in a new spring, a London ready to face new trials if necessary, but a London of humor, pathos, patience—and crowds.

BUSY WITH SEEDS
Double summer time is in effect now, giving more hours of daylight at night and drawing out larger crowds than ever. The depressing blackout has been pushed back another hour by this new time and the householder puts in the extra daylight planting vegetables instead of flowers in the front garden or visiting scenes of desolation missed in the hustle of rehabilitation that was last summer and fall.

Few buildings remain as they were left by fire and bomb. There are no roads blocked off on account of the time bombs. There are no bomb holes in roads to send buses by roundabout routes. London, since those grim days, has been cleaned up.

Quebec M.L.A. Fears Civil War

QUEBEC (CP)—Rene Chalouit, Liberal, Lotbiniere, Que., told the Quebec Legislative assembly Tuesday that "civil war might engulf us if conscription were imposed against our wishes."

Speaking on a motion which urged the House to express the wish that the federal government would continue its policy of voluntary enlistments and not impose conscription for overseas service, Mr. Chalouit said he hoped that Quebec representatives in Ottawa will oppose any move to impose conscription for overseas.

"Let our federal members be firm. Let the province show determination and we can avoid conscription and the menace of civil war."

"If we make our voice heard Ottawa will not impose conscription, and I hope Ottawa will think twice before imposing it."

Mr. Chalouit said the result of the manpower plebiscite, April 27, did not free Prime Minister King from his non-conscription pledges, but linked him to them more solidly than ever.

"The other peoples of Canada cannot impose on us obligations we do not want to accept."

"French-Canadians will never let themselves be led by the majority..."

British Troops Too Few

AP Man Describes Burma Rearguard Fights

Daniel de Luce covered the Burma campaign for the Associated Press from the first shot till the recent Allied reverses. Here is his dramatic story of his escape to India.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
CALCUTTA (AP)—Across cactus plains seared by desert heat, through steamy jungle swamps, hidden deep in black leech-infested mud, the survivors of the British army in Burma are fighting on in the toughest evacuation of the second Great War.

Harassed by enemy fighters and bombers which for nearly seven weeks have been overwhelmingly supreme, stabbed at from ambush by blood-crazed bands of native traitors the haggard and weary riflemen of half a dozen one-time crack battalions of British regiments, armored force crews and wiry sepoy from Indian units are approaching within a few scores of miles the mountainous Assam frontier of India—a frontier where the Japanese invaders can and must be held at bay.

WEEKS OF TRAGEDY

What happened in Burma constitutes a military tragedy for the United Nations—as bitter in its way as Singapore, Java and Manila.

For the pitifully small handful of soldiers from two divisions which lost lower Burma, for the few under-strength Chinese divisions which stemmed the Japanese conquest for more than a month in central Burma, observers have had nothing but praise.

They were ordered to do what events proved impossible. Their casualties were appalling.

The majority of the stocky, singing British I saw hiking into the Salween line in January, and the smiling Chinese I saw deploying around Toungoo below Mandalay in March, were killed in combat.

Some retreated out of the death pockets. Always there was a new temporary line established farther back. Always it was weaker than the previous line.

For hundreds of miles it was a case of fight, withdraw and fight again.

Every mile backward Allied air support faded until in April there literally was nothing left.

TREACHERY SPREAD

Always enemy troops and Burmese treachery increased.

The fall of Rangoon March 8 doomed Burma. The British in the ranks knew it as well as the officials. They kept on fighting. They are fighting today. Surrender isn't in their vocabulary.

What British troops reach the rugged Indian frontier will make their way on foot. Their 12-ton tanks with the cheery red desert rat insignia, their six-wheeled and four-wheeled trucks, their mobile anti-aircraft artillery, their field artillery admittedly cannot be manhandled over the 150 miles of sandy wastes and swamp morasses to the nearest Assam passes that can be negotiated by motor.

LACKED GOOD ROAD

Upper Burma never was linked to neighboring India by even one good road. If there had been one, the Burma disaster might not have happened.

Instead of one lone battalion sent to Burma from India by air after the loss of Rangoon, several divisions might have been hurried across by road to throw back the reinforced Japanese.

Thirteen days ago on military orders I left the bomb-smashed town of Shwebo, 60 miles northwest of Mandalay, coincident with the transfer of British army headquarters to Myitkyina, which is halfway from Shwebo to the eternal snows of Tibet.

In an American army jeep, whose four-wheeled drive was taxed by the crowded trails through the Chinthe valley and bogs and nearly perpendicular mule routes over the Chin hills, I chauffeured a wounded British captain into Assam, thence by miserable bullock cart roads to Bengal and Calcutta.

Thirteen hundred miles, 13 days.

Warned that Japanese patrols might already have cut my cross-country track, my newsman's luck kept me from driving southward to Monywa to try to catch an upstream Chinthe river steamer. Japanese patrols would have beaten me there; besides the steamers quickly suspended service.

I struck northwestward on a new trail hacked out of the jungle and followed the river beds miles on end, thankful that the monsoon had not yet filled them with more than a few inches of water.

Compared with that tiny, gallant British rearguard drunk with fatigue and battling toward temporary rest in Assam, I traveled in velvety luxury.

Fresh forces of the Indian army are manning the Assam frontier. They appeared calm, determined, mentally ready for the first clash with the enemy.

Veteran Seamen Lost With Destroyers

LONDON (CP)—An official source today called the loss of the destroyers, Kipling, Lively and Jackal in the Mediterranean a serious blow because the "casualties, even though small in number, were all veteran seamen."

Since more than 500 crew members were rescued, the loss presumably was no more than 100 men.

The bombers which sank the destroyers, this source said, are believed to have come from bases on Crete which have "very much hampered" British naval operations in the eastern Mediterranean since the Nazis occupied that island.

Housing Situation To Be Discussed

OTTAWA (CP)—Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, said Tuesday the public will hear "plenty" about the housing situation when the annual conference of the federation is held here May 26. He said the housing "back" had been passed between municipal and federal government authorities so long it was getting "pretty well worn out."

The store is so full of new (delightfully new) things to wear that we don't know where to begin and where to stop. So we're not going to do either—but just mention a new showing of the smartest Redingote ensembles in Navy or Black for as little as $10.95—linen print dresses in brilliant colors in the latest Hollywood slash floral designs, at $19.95—two-piece costumes in newest stripe and check Crepes, with Peter Pan Collars from $15.95. (And don't forget that you were going to bring in your Fur Coat for the summer.)

Tank Turns Back Jap River Fleet

By DANIEL DE LUCE
CALCUTTA (AP)—The last feat of this tank was to stem single-handed a Japanese river armada in Burma.

Its career ended in the tangled jungles only because it could not swim.

Nothing else had fazed it as it helped mother the British troops on their long, weary retreat back toward India.

Its story was told by the last British army headquarters officer to escape across the Chinthe River to Kalewa, six miles above Shwebo, last week.

LIKE JUNGLE BEAST

He had seen it standing like some new kind of jungle monster beneath coconut palms on the bluff commanding the Chinthe rivercraft downstream while the remnants of two British divisions crossed on rafts to the west bank and continued their retreat.

Its shells fell among the boats rounding a bend downstream from its perch atop the highest hill.

It had been in front line action since the fighting around Pegu late in February, some 700 miles back in Burma, almost to Rangoon, and had achieved the almost impossible by crawling the last 100 miles to the little but vital village of Shwebo over a trail hacked through teak forests and by fording rising streams.

TANK GOT THERE

The cross-country trail from the main valley road at Yeu was littered with virtually every kind of vehicle, some just broken down and others smashed by Japanese planes, but this tank defied around the wreckage, smashed over saplings, slithered up and down boggy embankments and got there.

Its 37-millimeter gun broke at least nine enemy road blocks and the officer said it "kept barking like a whole battery of 75's" during the long trek up the Irrawaddy valley.

Of the battle-worn, armored brigades and other tanks, there was no definite information, but virtually all their 80 vehicles still in action rolled through burning Shwebo, north of Mandalay, 12 days ago.

BENNETT ADVISES CLERICAL CRITICS

LONDON (CP)—Viscount Bennett, admonishing clerical critics of Prime Minister Churchill's Sunday radio speech, declared that "justice doesn't consist of telling the enemy who raped your women 'you're a fine fellow.'"

That, the former Canadian Prime Minister told the Congressional Union of England and Wales, "is not Christianity. Justice... means punishment of offenders. There can be punishment of offenders without hatred. Let's have no nonsense about that."

Viscount Bennett addressed the assembly of the Union after Rev. S. Morris Watts had expressed the hope that "our loyalty may not be strained by being asked to give consent to devices to which we can never give consent."

Mr. Watts added that the Atlantic Charter made no provision for "the extermination of Germany" and that "a new world cannot be built on hate."

Observers construed Mr. Watt's remarks to mean criticism of Mr. Churchill's warning that Britain would use gas against Germany if the Nazis first employ it against the United Nations.

C.A.T.S. Plans Dance At Crystal Garden

The Crystal Gardens will be the setting for another of the popular Corps dances of the Canadian Auxiliary Territorial Service. The smartly-uniformed young hostesses and their guests of the three services will dance to the R.A.F. orchestra. The commandante, Mrs. Renee Barclay-Ross, assisted by members of the administrative staff will receive the guests and will later be hostesses to the orchestra and their friends at a buffet supper.

Proceeds of the dance will be devoted to the upkeep of the mobile canteen operated by the Corps for training purposes, and for A.R.P. equipment. The Corps needs recruits to fill the gaps made in the ranks by members being called up for active service and to fulfill the many assignments allotted to them, chief of which is supplying a trained personnel of map plotters, telephone and clerical staff to the Central Control room of which Mrs. Barclay-Ross is supervisor.

Over 50 members have joined the C.V.A.C. many others are being called up for the R.C.A.F. (women's division) and now, with the navy beginning to recruit women, a still larger number are sending in applications. The Corps, which was originally known as the Victoria Ambulance Corps, has an honor roll of which it is justly proud. The C.A.T.S. supply a trained staff of nurses, V.A.D.'s and drivers to the St. Louis First Aid Post and will operate the six Salvage Corps trucks in the event of an emergency. A new detachment in Saanich is being organized with Lieut. Grace Hodgson as officer commanding.

Nurses Attended Solemn Service

Attending the combined baccalaureate and dedication services in St. Andrew's Cathedral on Sunday evening, some 200 nurses, including the 1942 graduates of St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, with Sister faculty members from St. Joseph's, St. Ann's and Mount St. Mary, participated in the Dominion-wide ceremonies of the day.

The impressive files of nurses, some in the uniform of the active forces, the greater number white-capped and wearing the navy cape over the spotless attire of hospital service, others in street dress, and others still in the garb of consecrated religion, arriving at the cathedral door in procession, were escorted to reserved places by six fourth degree Knights of Columbus. The floral decorations, in keeping with the occasion, were in the hospital colors of crimson and white, peonies against a background of lilac.

The ceremony opened with the congregational hymn invoking the light of the Holy Spirit. This was followed by the Litany of the Holy Name of Jesus and the sermon by Bishop Cody. Taking as his text "If any member suffer the whole body suffers," His Excellency showed the timelessness of the dedication of nurses to self-sacrificing and devoted service in the cause of suffering humanity, as well as the first dedication of the graduates to the same noble work in the wider sphere now opening before them. The bishop also pointed out, most convincingly, that though philanthropy has its merits, only that charity which sees Christ suffering in every afflicted human being can inspire a nurse with devotedness to all persons, under every circumstance, and to the end. In contrast, he briefly sketched the soulless service of that nurse who, lacking the inspiration of Divine Love, aims merely to attain a mechanical efficiency whereby she may advance her own interests, and remarked how little real solace such a one will bring to the poor and sick under her care.

Following the sermon the hymn "Queen of Peace" was sung by the Sisters' choir. This is a hymn of special petition for all those in active service on land or sea or in the air, and for all nurses whom duty may call to attend them in their arduous struggle for peace and victory.

During the ceremony of Pontifical Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament the nurses recited in unison an inspiring prayer composed for the occasion by Bishop Cody, thereby solemnly dedicating themselves, body and soul, talents and time, to the true purpose of life, the greater glory of God and the special duty of the nurse, the service of God in the person of the sick and the suffering. Prayers for victory and the singing of God Save the King closed the service.

Burlap Aprons May Get Rarer Than Fur Coats

A burlap apron may yet become rarer than a fur coat! A large part of the world's supply of burlap is manufactured in India, and future shipments are uncertain. To meet military demands for sandbags and camouflage material, civilian use will be restricted to packing certain agricultural products, chemicals and wool. It is announced by Miss Byrne Hope Sanders, head of the consumer branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

SPOOLS SHORTER

Spoils of thread now contain only 200 yards instead of 250 as in August, 1941. Housewives who have been wondering why the shortage will be interested to learn the reason. Before ever the price ceiling was effective, the manufacturers decided to reduce the yardage to 200 per spool in the interests of conservation. Therefore when the price ceiling was established it referred to the 200-yard spool, which had been the manufacturers' regular line since last August. However, there were large stocks on hand in the retailers' stores which contained the original 250 yards, and until these were sold the 200-yard spool did not come into the hands of the public. This is an instance of the time-lag which has puzzled many customers.

Buttons are another commodity which is getting scarce, to the sorrow of the home dressmaker. But the largest percentage of buttons are made from bakelite, which is needed for the manufacture of anti-aircraft shells. It is estimated that the recent modifications on men's clothing released in orders from the clothing administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board will permit a saving of 20,000,000 buttons. Gordon Head Camp Arranges Dance

There'll be no weeping in the stag line at the gala dance being arranged for officers, cadets and men of the Gordon Head Officers' Training Camp at the Crystal Garden May 14. Members of the committee of the sergeants' mess who are sponsoring the affair have arranged for girls and girls aplenty for the men. They have contacted the Y.W.C.A., B.C. Women's Ambulance Corps, C.W.A.C., and other organizations who will see that no male guest goes without a feminine partner, or perhaps two. Men may also bring their own companions and, of course, their wives.

The dance, which will occupy the entire three ballrooms of the Crystal Garden and to which are expected over 400 couples, marks the first anniversary of the opening of the camp for officers training. It is hoped that the ball will be repeated every three months as the highlight of each graduation. Len Acres' orchestra will supply the music and dancing will continue from 9 until 12.

Col. A. D. Wilson, D.S.O., V.D., commandant of the camp, will be an honorary guest. On the committee in charge of arrangements are: Sgt. Major W. H. Green, Staff Serjts' W. S. Goodland, J. A. Gratton, Deputy Quartermaster-Sergeant W. H. Briscoe, and Serjts. W. E. Galle, W. A. Elsner, A. Baz, J. T. Prime, E. Topp and D. G. McMillan.

CIVIL SERVICE BONUS

May 1 through your paper request public attention to the disgraceful action of the British Columbia provincial government in granting a bonus of $10 a month to their employees previously receiving $160 and $175 per month, and refusing same to superannuated employees, many of whom are receiving from $40 to $75 a month only.

It is obvious bonus should be given to latter, and to relief cases, service families, etc., instead of actually requiring them to provide greater luxury for those not in need of more.

Last session, M.L.A.'s and ministers repeatedly promised improved social conditions. We now know that was just fooling the people. Those that already had were to receive still more luxury and those that were in need still less.

MR. TOYNBEE COMES BACK

Mr. S. Page should define his terms. What does he understand by state capitalism, state socialism, public ownership, and common ownership? He lacks the discernment of the financiers, big industrialists and munitioneers, whose actions have proved that they were always well aware of the difference between Fascist Germany and Italy and Soviet Russia.

Mr. Page fails to realize that the destruction of "the German military machine" means the end of Fascism also.

There was no treaty in the ordinary acceptance of the word between Russia and Germany, but a pact of nonaggression, based, as the preamble states, on the Neutrality Agreement concluded in April, 1926. Russia only signed this pact after becoming convinced that the Chamberlain government had no intention of entering into an equitable anti-aggression front against Fascist aggression. Had she done otherwise she would have been left to face an attack from the Fascist nations alone. It was not what she wanted but the best she could get.

Mr. Page injures none but himself by cheap sneers about pulpless preachers, briefless lawyers and job-hunting intellectuals. The late J. S. Woodsworth is among those he sneers at. And even morons do not look for jobs from the C.C.F., but from the parties that have the dispensing of them—and usually they seem to get them.

MORE ON POTATOES

Your correspondent, Mrs. Sarah Anderson, apparently never lived on a farm or she would not make the silly statements that she did in her letter appearing in your paper of May 6. When hundreds of tons of potatoes rot in the ground it is because they are diseased, or have some defect that makes them unfit for human consumption. This was the case in the fall of 1941.

Late blight was the cause of a great many losses last fall. One grower in the Sumas area left 50 acres of potatoes in the ground to rot as they were unmarketable. Many had rotted with late blight, while a lot were damaged by the eastern flea beetle. I do not see how the Marketing Board can be held responsible for this situation. It was late blight that destroyed the potato crop in Ireland in 1846-47, this caused a famine. The Corn laws had to be repealed and tariffs removed to allow grain to be brought in from America to feed the people. Was the government of the day responsible for the loss of the potato crop and the resulting famine?

How Hoarding May 'Pay Off'

There have been times when different crops could not be sold, but is the Marketing Board responsible for a lack of purchasing power or indifference of the consuming public? If your correspondent and thousands more like her would double their purchases of lettuce and other vegetables when there is a surplus they could stop this rotting or waste of good food. The Marketing Board can control prices, which they try to maintain at a price where the producer can make a living. If the majority of the producers were dissatisfied with the Marketing Board it would soon cease to exist, but the majority of them feel that they are getting a better return now for their product than they did under the old system of take what the dealers offered. Then, once the dealers got control the price went up and the consumer paid plenty for it. A little constructive criticism would do a lot more good than oceans of destructive criticism can ever accomplish.

It would be advisable if your correspondent and others would wait for the findings of the commission which is investigating the situation at the present time, before passing sentence on a matter in which they can have only a fraction of the evidence submitted.

LESSONS OF EXPERIENCE

Mr. Page wrote an extremely good letter regarding the difference between socialism and state capitalism. Some interesting points come up, however, on which he might cast light. Will he please define more clearly what "common ownership" implies? And does he think that state capitalism cannot evolve into socialism or "common ownership" if the people gather more understanding of their position, and draw the necessary conclusions?

This is assuming, of course, that democracy remains and develops, and thus a peaceful transition is possible. It is true that C.C.F. leaders in the main seem to have no intention of abolishing the wage system, but cannot the socialist tendency manifest itself and grow within the movement?

It is through struggle and hard-gained experience that people learn, and there seems to be no good reason why C.C.F. experience should be an exception to the rule.

Shawnigan

SHAWNIGAN LAKE — Malahat branch of the Canadian Legion met in the S.L.A.A. Hall recently with President H. G. Webber in the chair. The meeting was in favor of sending a resolution to the proper authorities expressing the branch's disapproval of the fact that men who have volunteered for the forces and have been turned down as medically unfit are liable to be drafted, thus putting them in the class of so-called conscripts. A committee was named to draw up the resolution and forward it.

The Legion W.A. also met in the S.L.A.A. Hall, Mrs. Zelenky presided. A bulletin from provincial headquarters expressed gratification for the amount of clothing sent by the W.A. in Canada to the Queen Charlotte Hospital in London, parcels are being sent to local boys overseas. It was decided to hold the annual card party on June 5.

Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute met in the S.L.A.A. Hall, when tentative plans were made for a rose tea and sale at the home of the president in the summer. Following discussion on Japanese removal to detention camps in Vancouver, the secretary was instructed to write to the authorities inquiring if Japanese mail was being adequately censored.

A.R.P. wardens met for further instructions. The meeting was addressed by the chief warden, D. V. Kier of Mill Bay. It is expected the electric siren will soon be installed at Shawnigan. First aid posts have been installed at S.L.A.A. Hall, Mrs. F. M. Gannon's home, Shawnigan Beach Hotel, and at Mrs. Kimble's Cliffside.

'Take Dollar Sign Away From Altars'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Hon. H. H. Stevens, one-time federal Minister of Trade and Commerce, told members of the Lay Association of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada in an address Tuesday that the "cause of justice, right and freedom will prevail against Hitler, but we ourselves individually must reform."

"We must get rid of our complacency and inertia," he said. "We used to hear of the church militant. We don't often use that word today. We have become too easy-going and too wealthy and the church has suffered."

"Let's take the dollar sign down above the altars of our big metropolitan churches and restore the old sign of the cross."

The former minister said "we must advance or retreat. There must be growth or decay."

E. G. Dunne of West Point Grey United Church, was re-elected president of the Lay Association. C. E. Atcheson, Vancouver, was elected general vice-president, and Fred H. Fullerton, Knox Church, Vancouver, was re-elected secretary-treasurer for the 12th successive term.

Freshwater vice-presidents appointed were: Victoria, Luther Hollings; Vancouver, George Lake; Kootenay, Mrs. W. B. McFarlane; Cranbrook, Cariboo, J. A. Fraser, Quesnel; Kamloops, Okanagan, Roderick McDonald; Penticton; New Westminster, W. E. Pinchin, White Rock.

A.R.P. Ambulance Fund Exceeds Objective

Saanich A.R.P. ambulance campaign which closed Saturday within $200 of its objective, achieved its quota, officers announced Tuesday. Canvassers turned in $4,150, which will be spent to purchase two ambulances and to equip 25 panel delivery trucks which will be made available for A.R.P. work during an emergency.

Officers said another $100 may be forthcoming from persons who promised contributions but did not make them last week. The committee will probably be in a position to call for tenders for the two ambulances following a meeting tonight.

ABOUT BRIDES FOR BRITAIN

It was front page information recently that after the war Canada can look for the migration from England of thousands of soldiers' brides. Only one or two Victoria soldiers as far as is known have married since they left this city, but of the Canadians over there the total of weddings runs into thousands.

While we were learning this we overlooked what was happening right on our own doorstep. As the English brides arrive in Canada from England, there may also be scores of Victoria brides arriving in England from Canada.

If you read the social pages you will have learned that every week or so another Pat Bay English airman has married a Victoria girl and the numbers are increasing. The wartime plunges into matrimony are the subject of considerable discussion among the English aviators.

Evidently the course of true love runs fairly smoothly for the men from the other side of the Atlantic and Victoria girls. Most of the young airmen who would launch their skills on the sea of matrimony have positions in England to which they plan to return after the war.

MIGHT LIKE ENGLAND

"You are crazy," some of their companions tell prospective bridegrooms. "An English girl might come to Canada and love it but it is not likely that a Canadian girl will be contented in England."

It is a question that will only be answered when the Victoria brides arrive in England with their husbands.

Should they go to the big cities like London, Manchester or Birmingham they may be overwhelmed with the big change in their lives. Should they go to a small south coast town in some parts of Sussex they may walk along the waterfront and imagine they are still in Beacon Hill Park or Dallas Road.

On the other hand, and what is far more likely, they may never leave Victoria at all except perhaps for a visit to England. It appears Canada has proved very alluring to a lot of the English airmen. Already some are making inquiries with a view to settling here when the war is over.

RIPLEY WAS RIGHT

Speaking of the R.A.F. Editor Gerry Gosley of the Patrician was in the office all hot and bothered the other day because Believe-It-or-Not Ripley wrote a paragraph. "Does a spirit level always tell the truth? No! In an airplane it always shows level no matter what position or angle the plane is flying."

Gerry couldn't believe it. "Nobody at camp believes it," he said.

The upshot of the discussion at Pat Bay was that Gerry was taken up on one of the flights with a spirit level.

Next issue of the Patrician contained an article with big headlines: "R.A.F. Proves Ripley Wrong," and the article told how the bubble in the spirit level traveled up and down according to the angle of the plane. The article has been forwarded to Ripley.

I would like to be in Gerry's office when he receives Ripley's reply. It may read: "A level always 'shows' level no matter what position a plane is flying. The little bubble goes up or down to show where level is. Put the emphasis on the 'shows' and don't confuse it with 'registers' and the point will be clear."

HE'S ANNOYED

North Carolina's Josephus Daniels, former United States Ambassador to Mexico, gets very emphatic when he is out to lambaste something. A U.S. army tradition that forbids private soldiers to have dates with nurses who are commissioned as second lieutenants, stirs his wrath.

"This rotten tradition stinks," he says. To summarize, that probably means he doesn't approve.

Before he went on record in type he wrote Secretary of War Stimson to see if such a regulation existed. He was told there was an unwritten law based on the relationship of superiors towards subordinates.

That was enough for Daniels. If enlisted men are good enough to fight and die for their country, he wrote, they ought to be good enough to associate with generals or with nurses.

"Off duty, a private and col-

They'll Do It Every Time

onet either have the equal right of social gatherings or our talk of a 'war for democracy' is baloney," Daniels says. "The bunk that such shobbery promotes discipline is absurd. Off duty men are equals. On duty the orders of ranking officers must be obeyed, and all privates are glad to render such obedience. They resent—and so does every red-blooded American—the so-called unwritten law of denial of fundamental rights."

GLAMOUR UNIFORMS

A lady who is chairman of a war knitters' group in Duncan raises the question whether unnecessary expense is not being incurred in the C.W.A.C. Particularly she mentions visits to eastern Canada for courses described as "mainly squad drill and discipline."

"Why can't these be taught here?" she asks. "Why the unnecessary expense when we need every dollar for A.R.P. and ambulances?"

There is a lot of merit in the lady's argument, particularly if discipline and squad drill was all the course consisted of and even if it consisted of other training, one wonders whether it would not be possible for one or two instructors to travel the country rather than send groups to Montreal.

It was inevitable too that there should be some criticism to clash with the admiration of the glamorous appearance of the women of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, in their smart uniforms. It was inevitable, too, soldiers' issued with a serviceable but glamorous battle dress should feel a little resentment at seeing the ladies of the army issued with a uniform of cloth that was once used for officers only. In fact, a uniform that looks like that of an officer except for the skirts taking the place of trousers.

No exact figures are available, but critics report it costs five or six times as much to dress a C.W.A.C. for more or less peaceful home duties in offices and other places as it does to dress a soldier for active service. After all, the duties of the C.W.A.C.'s seem similar to those of the hundreds of young women who do office duties at $60 or $70 a month in army or navy establishments as civilians, without an issue of clothes or allowances for lingerie and cosmetics.

When, and if, the ladies start moving to war zones, the $150 expenditure on a uniform might be justified.

Scientists Study Canadian Diet

TORONTO — Scientific attack on problems of the Canadian diet was furthered today with the announcement by J. H. Tapley, president of Swift Canadian Company Limited of the establishment of a limited number of fellowships for research in nutrition. The fellowships are intended to aid the Dominion government in its long-range national nutrition program.

The fellowships provide for special research to be undertaken in laboratories of universities and medical schools with funds which the company has set aside as grants in aid, beginning May 11. The fellowships will be for one year but may be renewed where the project warrants it. Any fundamental study of the nutritive properties of foods or the application of such information to improvement of the Canadian diet and health will be eligible for consideration for a grant, according to Mr. Tapley.

"A higher level of nutrition for the better health of all Canadians is an essential objective for this Dominion," Mr. Tapley pointed out in making the formal an-

A.R.P. Practice Set for Tonight

The second of a series of 10 A.R.P. exercises in various districts throughout Victoria will be staged tonight in District 2A East, the area south of Oak Bay Avenue between St. Charles Street and the city-Oak Bay boundary. Object of the test is to co-ordinate sector, district and central control operations and to accustom the warden services to operate smoothly with the various municipal and auxiliary services.

Although there will be no official blackout, the public will be requested to co-operate by following regular blackout procedure from 8 to 9:30 Wednesday evening.

The general procedure of the practice will be the same as mapped out in the James Bay district last Wednesday and in addition sector headquarters and district control will be blacked out and manned for action directly after the preliminary blackout is ordered.

All personnel taking part in the exercise will be as fully equipped as possible and will act as though an actual raid were in progress. Nine main "incidents" have been planned, "casualties" of which will be taken to hospital.

A number of minor "casualties" will be treated at the district headquarters. Wardens and auxiliary services will have sealed orders which will be opened at specified times. The orders will describe the character of the "incident," the location and the number and type of "casualties."

HIT A HIGH for flavour!

TRUBLE-SHOOTER Georges, here, helps keep power lines open to key industries in Northern Quebec. Braves blizzards; handles high tension wires! A tough job! But like thousands of other hard-working men, he has discovered THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST gives him staying power—"and for real zip, give me Kellogg's Corn Flakes! They sure taste grand!" says Georges.

MEN FROM MARS? No, Bruce Young and Martin Hurst, Ontario ARP workers learning "gas decontamination." These war workers both have full-time jobs. They get the right send-off to the day with Kellogg's Corn Flakes. "Swell is the word for that exclusive Kellogg's flavour!" says Bruce. Right! And the flavour that 4 out of 5 in Canada vote first — is just as tempting between meals!

STEPPING OUT! Gordon knows just how long he must allow for that last-minute dash to the bus. He knows, too, that a big bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with milk and sugar gives him the needed food energy to run more than two miles! No wonder so many people in Canada vote it THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST!

JOHNNY'S ON THE JOB to see that mother buys THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST! "If my family's any indication," says Mrs. Valieu, "it's no wonder that all across Canada Kellogg's gets the vote as the favourite cereal, year after year! I often give Johnny Kellogg's for supper, too. When he's off to bed early, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are best—nourishing and easy-to-digest! Get some tomorrow, in either of the two convenient sizes."

HE'S A "SELF-STARTER"! When on furlough, George goes into action with a zoom! Makes fast aquaplane dash; swims; has fun at the lake. Sports like this help keep him fit; but the right food is important too. For needed food energy, thousands begin their day with THE "SELF-STARTER" BREAKFAST—a big bowl of Kellogg's Corn Flakes with milk and sugar! Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Schubert Choir Assists A.R.P.

Substantial benefit accrued to the A.R.P. Tuesday night from a concert presented in the Centennial Church, George Road, by the Schubert Choir with assisting artists under the direction of Frederic King.

To an audience that nearly filled the main floor of the church the ladies' choir gave a well-balanced program that ranged from Cherubini, Beethoven and Schubert to the moderns like Ware and Robertson.

Mr. King gave his usual thoughtful readings to all the works under his baton while both as accompanists and as individual artists Margretta Green, organ, and Grace Timp, piano, contributed largely to the success of the performance.

J. BRAY SUBSTITUTES

Fraser Lister, baritone, originally scheduled to appear, was replaced at the last minute by John Bray, who contributed a creditable performance of "Silent Worship," by Handel, and the aria "Aeri tu" from Verdi's "Bal Masque," and in the second half of the program, "When I Think," by Michael Head, and "None But the Lonely Heart," by Tschalkowsky.

Other soloists were Janet Swetnam, soprano, in "The Swallow," Del Aquila, and "The Whole World Knows," Kreier; Eleanor Swain, mezzo, who was heard in Tyson's "Sea Moods" and "The Answer," by Curran; Jean Whittingham, contralto, in "A Birthday," by Woodman, and "Morning," by Ole Speaks; Lolia Kenmuir in "Basque Lullaby," by Craig, and "Spring's Awakening," and Lolia Brown, "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," by Saint Saens.

DUET GROUPS

Elfie Robinson and Beatrice Jones were heard to good effect in two groups of duets, "The Maybell and the Flowers," by Mendelssohn, and Stephen Foster's "I Dream of Jeanie" and "Goin' Home," by Dvorak.

The organ selection "Panis Angelicus," by Caesar Franck, opened the program, other instrumental numbers being the organ and piano duets "Mastorale," by Guilmant, and "Aria Grandioso," by Demarest.

The choir was heard in five groups of numbers.

Head of Field Force

Alex Campbell (7th Fusiliers) was elected president of the Victoria and Vancouver Island Branch of the Northwest Field Force, 1885, at an annual meeting of the group Tuesday, the 56th anniversary of the Battle of Batoche. A. M. Moyat (90th Winnipeg Rifles) was chosen secretary-treasurer.

The meeting, which was held at 625 Courtney Street, was presided over by Col. G. Hunter Ogilvie, secretary-treasurer, in the absence of Rev. C. C. Raven, who was ill. Maj. A. E. Christie assisted Col. Ogilvie.

HE KEEPS HIS JOB Though TURNED 70

House Painter Who Takes His Kruschen Every Day

How many painters can continue to work when they are over 70? Here is one who can—and he still does some of the most trying jobs in his trade. How does he do it? He tells us in this letter:

"I have been in the habit of taking a pinch of Kruschen Salts in every cup of tea I have had for a great number of years. I may state that I am turned 70 years of age. I am a house painter by trade and still at work. I can work off any ladder, no matter what height, or in cradles which are hung outside high buildings. I have been asked many times how I carry my age so well, as I only look about 50. Well, I tell them all that I take Kruschen Salts regularly every day."—J.S.A.

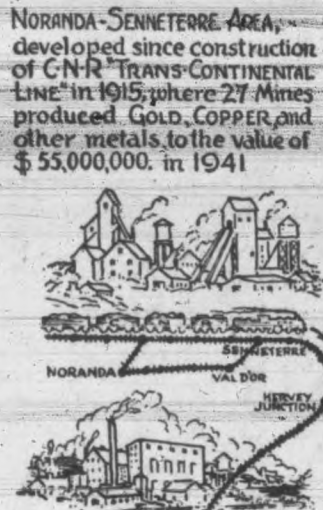

Kruschen is a combination of numerous mineral salts which assist in stimulating your liver, kidneys and digestive tract to healthy regular activity. They ensure internal cleanliness, and so help to keep the blood stream free from impurities. Kruschen is a British product, obtainable at all drug stores, 25c and 75c.

THE RAILWAY AND THE WAR

By Thurston Topham

COPPER, vital wartime metal, is now being produced in great quantity from areas which were wilderness before the railways came. Lines of the National System that were built into the unpopulated sections of the country have proved to be of tremendous value in CANADA'S WAR EFFORT.

The FLIN-FLO-SHERRIDON development, made possible by the building of C.N.R. branch lines in northern MANITOBA, is one of the greatest COPPER producers in NORTH AMERICA.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT

JOHNS-MANVILLE

"Weather's Waterloo" Met in Worn Washtub

If your home today is snug, dry and weathertight, give part of the credit to the roof-making experiments of two chop-whiskered gentlemen of the Seventies — H. W. Johns and his assistant, W. W. Harold. Their equipment consisted of an old wooden washtub and an ordinary clothes wringer.

While Mr. Harold guided layers of felt, burlap and paper through the wringer, Mr. Johns poured hot pitch from a tea kettle onto the felt.

From this modest beginning, Johns-Manville has developed today's complete line of roofings. And right up at the top of the list you'll find J.M. Asphalt Roofing Shingles. They're made to "stand up" longer under Canada's extremes of weather, and with revolutionary "Drift Blend" colors they set a new style in roof beauty. For a color-illustrated folder, call your J.M. dealer, V. I. Hardwood Floor Company, 707 Johnson Street, Garden 7314.

Firms Must Meet War Conditions

Walter Jensen told Victoria Credit Granters' Association Tuesday it would be fatal for firms to carry on "business as usual" during wartime, and to survive businesses must take cognizance of the changing conditions caused by government war measures and by social adjustment to a war economy.

Mr. Jensen is a field representative of the Associated Credit Bureaus. Among the factors which had influenced business since the beginning of the war, Mr. Jensen mentioned the influx of population into the coast area and the decrease of population east of the Cascade Mountains. In some cities in interior states the population had decreased by 15 to 50 per cent, he said.

"The greatest problem of the merchant east of the Cascades," Mr. Jensen said, "is to follow his debtors."

He said most of the families which had moved to the coast had been dependent on relief or the W.P.A. He warned businessmen to restrict credit to these persons until they were thoroughly established in the community.

The general trend, Mr. Jensen said, had been for retailers to reduce credit sales, although total business volume had increased from 15 to 80 per cent. He said firms also were finding it necessary to generalize their stocks to meet the public's demands.

Speaking of the credit regulations in Canada and the United States, Mr. Jensen said the regulations were something for which credit men had been fighting for 15 years. He said the Pacific Northwest had led the continent in co-operative credit organization and he urged businessmen to take full advantage of the government regulations to educate the public to live up to their credit contracts.

Hurlers Keep Yanks on Top

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Now that New York Yankees have clinched the American League pennant again, it's as good a time as any to marvel a little, out loud, as to just how they do it.

There may be a few scattered bleats to the effect that inasmuch as there are around 130 games remaining on the schedule the awarding of the championship is a little premature.

However, the Yanks are leading the league now despite the fact they have been running along on three cylinders. Their pitching and all-around defence have been carrying the load, with the batting averages as a whole reading like bowling scores on ladies' night.

Joe DiMaggio is under .300. Charley Keller is struggling along at .221. Phil Rizzuto is hitting .188, which means he isn't hitting. Joe Gordon and Bill Dickey are doing right well, but the other gents associated with Yankee power just aren't in stride.

DiMaggio and Keller have won games with mighty blows, but they aren't putting out the steady lift.

What's holding up the Yanks, then? Well, in winning their seventh straight game last Sunday their pitchers had allowed 15 runs in 65 innings, and five of the chuckers had turned in complete games.

"I'M NOT BRAGGING..

but I've helped to build a Blenheim Bomber"

This is the true story of a life insurance man who sought some definite way to back up his three sons on active service overseas, in the armed forces. One day he learned that, through his company's investments in Victory Bonds, he was making a substantial contribution to Canada's war program. Here is his statement:

"I did some arithmetic. I was amazed. I did it over again. And then my old spine stiffened. By George! I'm in this war after all! I—John Doe—insurance agent—old! Faint at heart! Weak at the knees! I've done something for my country! 1939-1940-1941—three years premium income. Almost three hundred thousand dollars in cash—flowing into my Company and flowing out again to smash Hitler—as a result of my personal efforts."

"Why, I've helped to build a Blenheim Bomber—or train ten pilots—or feed a Tank Battalion of a thousand men for a whole year. I'm not bragging—I'm very humble about it."

This is typical of how hundreds of life insurance men are playing their part in this war.

Local Boy Killed In Fighter Here

A native son of Victoria, 19-year-old Sgt. Pilot Richard Roland Thomas Christie, R.C.A.F., was instantly killed when the fighter plane he was flying out of Patricia Bay station crashed into the sea in Saanichton Bay at 4 Tuesday. Efforts are being made to recover the body of the victim and the wreckage of the plane.

Sgt. Pilot Christie came from Seattle in June, 1940, to join the R.C.A.F. at Vancouver and after training in various air schools graduated as a pilot with his wings and was posted to the Thunderbird Squadron last month.

He was born here in April, 1923, to a family prominent in Victoria for two generations. His grandfather was the late R. T. Elliott, K.C., widely-known barrister, and his grandmother was well known as a musician.

His father, Flt. Lt. Roland G. Christie, R.C.A.F., was a veteran of the first Great War who entered the brokerage business on his return from overseas and was one-time part owner of the Christie-Hall Building, Fort Street. He left Victoria about 1930 and went to live in Seattle, returning soon after the present war broke out to re-enter the service. He is stationed at present at No. 123 A.C.T. Squadron, R.C.A.F., at Debert, N.S.

Sgt. Pilot Christie's mother, now Mrs. Elmer Knight, lives at Cordova Bay, not far from where her son met his death.

Improvised Gas Mask

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, demonstrates the use of the improvised Beals gas mask which has been tested and found satisfactory for civilian use. The homemade mask is simple to produce, requiring an inner tube, or an old hot water bottle, plastics for eye pieces, a tin can and specially prepared charcoal as an active agent. While mass-produced gas masks are not available, Inspector Bishop suggested the mechanically-minded public make their own masks. He said he would be glad to display one at his office in the City Hall and to explain how the mask may be made. Dr. C. B. Beals of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich, made the first homemade mask but he said there was nothing original in it. E. Savannah assisted in testing and perfecting the mask.

His next of kin is listed as his wife, Mrs. Hazel Jennie Crouch of Westholme, Vancouver Island. No other information as to the nature or extent of Cpl. Crouch's injuries is given nor is it stated where they were received.

Victoria College Pass Lists Released

Successful students in Victoria College's final examinations, results of which were released by the senate of the University of British Columbia today, are classified according to percentages they achieved.

Those securing first-class honors made 80 per cent or better, those securing second-class 65 to 79 per cent, and those passing, 50 to 64 per cent. In addition certain students secured grades sufficient to carry them with supplemental examinations in certain subjects.

Partial students are classified only under individual subjects.

Students who are entitled to supplementals may improve their standing by writing the supplemental examinations held in September. Those who, on account of illness, have been granted deferred examinations, may write these at the time of the September supplementals. Students who intend to proceed to Applied Science at the University of British Columbia, have completed the work of the First Year in Arts and Science, but have not obtained the standing required in certain subjects for admission to Applied Science, may likewise remove deficiencies by taking the September examinations.

A student is granted a supplemental in a subject which he has taken during the year, provided he has obtained a mark of not less than 30 per cent on the final examination. A candidate, however, will not be granted supplementals in more than six units of work. All students who may write supplementals will receive written notification from the Registrar's Office.

AFTER LOOKING OVER the season at Macdonald Park Saturday when the Victoria Machinery Depot engages Victoria United in provincial cup. It will likely be a greatly changed United line-up which takes the field, as we understand manager Doc Poyntz has been busy as a mouse-hunting cat these days lining up several new players from the ranks of the Royal Air Force. The flyers have uncovered some mighty smart material from the Old Country and Poyntz would like nothing better than to inject them into his line-up and take the shipyarders into camp in this important playoff. The United is still smarting over that overtime victory the V.M.D. scored in the Jackson Cup final. The Coast League club figures its prestige suffered a bad blow.

Baseballers have the advantage of that extra hour as the result of daylight saving, but umpire Tommy Restell wants to remember he still can't expect the boys to work under the handicap of darkness. Saturday he got two clubs caught in the middle of an inning and had to call play while Monday night he forced the teams to go half an inning too long. Big danger is that some player is liable to get seriously hurt, especially if a couple of fast-ball pitchers are working. Laurel Harney, cagey catcher of the V.M.D. came up with the right answer Saturday night when he remarked, as the umpire changed balls: "If it's too dark to see the ball it's too dark to play." The umpire should call the game immediately the light starts to fail regardless of how many innings have been played. We know the officials like to accommodate the fans but we can't imagine any customer wanting to see the players perform under such a handicap. The risk is not worth the chance.

While watching the Army Navy play ball we had a chat with Eddie DeCosta recently returned to the city from navy service. Before the war Eddie gave promise of being one of the finest centre-forwards developed in the city. He told us of turning out in Los Angeles recently to play his first game of soccer in three years. "The brand of soccer down there is not good but they sure can kick the ball and run after it," the former Esquimaux star remarked with a laugh. "And don't ever think that kick and run style is not tough as he pulled up his pants leg to show us a couple of healthy looking cuts that still were in the progress of healing."

Football will make what is likely to be its final gasp of the

Double for King's Stable

Wins 1,000 Guineas

NEWMARKET, Eng. (CP)—The King's stable completed a rare double at Newmarket today when Sun Chariot won the One Thousand Guineas stakes for three-year-old fillies after the royal colt Big Game took the Two Thousand Guineas classic Tuesday. Sun Chariot was the even money favorite.

It was the first time since 1902 that one stable had won both events and the first time royal entries ever won both.

The race also marked a classic double for the King's jockey, Gordon Richards, and placed him at the head of the winning riders' list for the first time this season.

The three-year-old Sun Chariot, like Big Game, leased from the national stud for a racing career, cantered home a four-length winner over Lord Glanely's Perfect Peace.

The time was 1 minute 39.35 seconds for the mile course. The Countess of Derby's long shot, Light of Day, was third.

Today's victory was the 16th in the classic series for the King's trainer, Fred Darling. It was the seventh classic triumph for Richards.

Sun Chariot, beaten once in seven starts, has poured more than $30,000 in the royal coffers.

Pigeon Racing
The Victoria and District Racing Pigeon Club held its second old bird race of the season over the week-end, from Chilliwack, an air line distance of 80 miles. The velocities were not quite as high as was anticipated, due to the wind and rain which the birds encountered en route to their lofts.

Positions and velocities follow:

A. Renshaw 546.12
S. Kruit 543.12
W. McPherson 512.33
A. Hardy 472.60
S. Elden 471.34

The next race will be from Hope, an air line distance of 108 miles. Birds will be basked Friday at 7 at the club headquarters, 845 Pandora Avenue. Following the basking of the birds the clocks will be checked and set.

Just Misses Perfect Game

Thompson Beats Dodgers

Gene (Junior) Thompson is a young fellow who always seems to have been bordering upon greatness as a pitcher. Every year since he joined Cincinnati Reds in 1939 he has been considered a potential 20-game winner although his actual victories for three seasons have been 13, 16 and 6.

But the big, rangy right-hander never was as close to crossing the border as he was in Brooklyn Tuesday when he came within one blow of the no-hit game all hurlers dream of.

The only hit off Thompson was a pinch double in the sixth inning by his former teammate, Lew Riggs, one of the best pinch hitters in the game today, and it set up a run that cheated Thompson of even a shutout. The Reds won 5 to 1.

This was Thompson's second victory without defeat this spring and it heralded the news that manager Bill McKechnie now has his pitching staff ready to terrorize the rest of the National League.

Cincinnati's triumph bunched all four clubs in the first division within four games, but Brooklyn's 2½ game margin over the second-place Pittsburgh was not harmed because New York Giants bowled over the Buccaneers 3 to 1.

The Giants sprung a triple play, the first of the year in the majors, and rallied twice for four and three runs to help Cliff Melton achieve his fourth triumph.

Chicago Cubs managed to stop the rush of Boston Braves, but only by a close 9 to 8 margin. The Braves tallied five times in an effort to catch up in the eighth, two of the runs coming on a pinch homer by Jim Tobin, who will pitch today.

Like Philadelphia Phils cooled off, St. Louis Cardinals 3 to 2 behind the sixth-inning of Frank Horner.

All the games in the American League were postponed except Philadelphia Athletics' struggle at St. Louis and rookie Jack Walgaesa won this for the A's 5 to 4 and with a three-run homer in the eighth inning.

COAST LEAGUE
Seattle and Los Angeles, the two top-ranking teams of the Pacific coast baseball loop, played 15 innings of baseball without settling any differences Tuesday night.

The game, the longest contest of the Coast League season ended at midnight in accordance with the circuit's curfew rule with the two teams tied at five runs each.

At San Francisco, however, the Seals took advantage of a single extra inning to ease past Portland 4 to 3.

At San Diego, Al Olesen held Hollywood to seven hits in winning his fifth game of the season for the Padres 3 to 1.

The Sacramento-Solons, playing before their home fans for the first time this year, blasted Oakland hurler Ralph Buxton for five runs in the seventh inning to win 5 to 2.

Interhigh Track Meet Scheduled

An interhigh school track meet, sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. under the direction of coach Archie McKinnon, will be held on the Victoria High School grounds May 29 at 3.30.

Schools competing in the meet will be Victoria High, present holder of top honors; Oak Bay High, three Saanich High schools, Esquimaux High, University School, and Brentwood College. Two competitors from each of the schools will be allowed to compete in each of the events.

Point awards will determine which of the schools takes the McLennan, McCreely, and Prior trophies. This award is now in the possession of Victoria.

Past years have proved that this affair attracts many runners, and brings out some stiff competition.

List of events for the meet follows: 880-yard run, 100-yard dash, shotput, 120-yard hurdles (three feet jumps)—heats if necessary; 440-yard race, hurdles, final (if necessary); 220-yard race—heats if necessary; broad jump, 220-yard final (if necessary); high jump, 880-yard medley relay; 1st man to run 440 yards, 2nd man to run 220 yards, 3rd man to run 110 yards, 4th man to run 110 yards; 100-yard dash (girls); 440-yard relay (four girls).

Dim-out Will Not Affect Ball Parks

LOS ANGELES (AP)—President Wilbur C. Tuttle of the Coast League said Tuesday he doubted that military dimout plans for the west coast would affect the loop's ball parks.

Tuttle said he had received no communication from the army regarding the dim-out, but emphasized that the league "stands ready to change to day or twilight play if necessary."

"Our only waterfront park," Tuttle said, "is at San Diego, and I believe that the present survey will reveal no objectionable glare or reflection from any of the other plants."

Golf Shows Decline

By SCOTT YOUNG
TORONTO (CP)—Decline of golf as a business is inevitable in wartime because of restrictions on materials needed in manufacture of golf equipment, but as a pastime it will hold its own in popularity.

Curtailment of equipment production naturally has reduced drastically the number of newcomers to the game. But the regulars are undaunted. Present supplies will carry them most of this year and next. Professionals are hit the hardest.

The fewer the newcomers the fewer the lessons. Pros who find it difficult to break themselves of the ugly habit of eating regularly are looking for other employment for the duration, although some are maintaining their golf contacts on a part-time basis.

Edgar Laprade so impressed Dr. R. H. MacLaughlin of Calgary during the senior hockey playoffs there a couple of months ago the Alberta sportsman sent him an engraved golf collar pin.

Dr. MacLaughlin's brother, Lt.-Col. Donald MacLaughlin, is in command of the Calgary Highlanders overseas. A shortage of jockeys is reported in British Columbia. The racing season there, cut from 42 days of 34, isn't as attractive to the good riders as it was.

Jokers Capture Lacrosse Battle by Single Goal

V.M.D.-Flyers Play Tonight

Undisputed possession of first place in the senior ball league will be at stake tonight when Victoria Machinery Depot and R.C.A.F. tangle at Athletic Park at 6.30.

These two clubs received their baptism Saturday and marked up victories over the Eagles and Flyers & Nex. They at present share the number one position with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Ralph Morgan, recently arrived in town from Edmonton, is expected to receive the call for pitching duty for the V.M.D. with Laurel Harney completing the battery.

On the mound for the Flyers will be Percy Switch, who played third base in the opening game Saturday. O'Donoghue will move from second to third with Lawrence Sherman taking over the keystone sack.

Second division opening is planned for Thursday evening at Admirals Road, where the Royal Canadian Navy will be at home to the Eagles, 1941 champions. Game time is 6.30.

CANCEL REGATTA

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1942 Poughkeepsie regatta was canceled Tuesday by A. Bushnell, secretary-treasurer of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association, as a result of his inability to obtain a representative entry for the big event normally held on the Hudson.

He made it clear that the event was being canceled for this year only, not for the duration of the war. The regatta has been held each spring since 1895 except for a three-year lapse through 1917-19 and in the depression of 1933.

Air Minister Praised

OTTAWA (CP)—Air Minister Power Tuesday received the praise of Rev. Dan McIvor, Liberal, Fort William, as a sponsor of hockey games in which Royal Canadian Air Force personnel participate.

"Good, clean entertainment," was a pressing need of airmen, said McIvor in the House of Commons. He had seen men come back from a training flight and sit and look at space.

Care had to be given to their health and "their stomachs should be in good shape to stomach all that comes."

"The minister should be commended for saving young men and putting them back in the hockey line," said McIvor. "The young man who keeps his body and mind in shape will be a great aviator."

Ross Macdonald, Liberal, Brantford City, who spoke after McIvor, said he believes the men on hockey teams live like kings compared with the airmen who fly over Germany and that he does not think that right.

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian open golf championship will be held at the Mississauga Golf and Country Club, Port Credit, Aug. 6 to 8. It was announced here Tuesday by the Ontario Golf Association.

The amateur tournament will be held at the Brantford Golf and Country Club, Brantford, from July 9 to 11.

Beat Tiremen In Goalies' Struggle

Chief Gussie Munroe's half redskin, half paleface Douglas Tire lacrosse team didn't hold any victory potlatch Tuesday night, all because Jimmie Smith's Jokers held on like drowning men through the last quarter to eke out a 7 to 6 win in the second game of the season at the Victoria Sports Centre.

About 500 fans scattered themselves around the box and roared to their lungs' content at a low-scoring extravaganza that produced everything exciting, even to a nice intimate fight.

The lacrosse could have been better, but considering the game was the first of the season for the two teams, Mr. Spectator got his shilling's worth.

Shades of long ago, when Chief Thunderbird used to squirm with some of the more luminous in the wrestling game up at the Army and Navy Vets, and all the Indians in Saanich would turn out to cheer him on, were brought to mind at the game. A formidable contingent of redskins marched, 75 strong, into the Sports Centre to support their brethren on the floor.

The boxa commission figures it can fill the building at every Douglas Tire game if Gus makes his team an all-Indian outfit.

GOALIES STAR

But, to get back to the game, it was really a heartbreaker for Douglas Tire. Down 6 to 3 at three-quarter time, the boys in purple and gold controlled the last period and drew to within one goal of tying the affair at the nine-minute mark.

Smart Joker ragging, coupled with sensational goaltending by tubby Bill Andrews kept the retreaters in arrears for the last six minutes, and try as they might, they just couldn't get the winning margin.

The goaltending of Andrews and young Joe Bryant was the standout of the night. Both lads pulled off great saves all through the game and proved the backbone of their respective teams.

The Joker goalie stopped 35 shots, Bryant 10 less.

Out on the floor elongated Ken Calverly, Trevor Harvey and Don Dunn looked best on the Joker side. Team captain Andy Ovcharick, Gibb Stevens and Bob Moffat, all whites, looked to be the class of the Douglas Tire crew.

The Indian string proved to be a smart stick-handling lot, but had to take time to wind up before getting their shots away. Jokers usually interrupted them while in the process.

Except for the last quarter, there wasn't much to pick and choose between the teams. Playing a rough-and-ready game the whole distance, the boys threw their weight around considerably. Fans were waiting for something to blow, and it did, near the end of the third quarter.

MILD FIGHT

Shinnying with a loose ball at the east boards, Jimmy McKeachie, Joker recruit, and Chief Gussie's Will Cooke tangled, Will, whose pipe-stem legs and piteous pads were one of the evening's highlights, led off with a nice one-two attack to Jimmy's face which caused the latter to choose a wrestling bout, in which he fared better. Players of both sides pulled them apart and almost started a free-for-all on their own in doing it. Jimmy and Will got 10 minutes each. Altogether the Jokers spent 23 minutes in the cooler, Douglas Tire 18.

At the end of the first period score was 1 to 0 for Jokers. Ken Calverly getting the goal on a length-of-the-floor rush. In the second session Smith's team outscored the tiremen three goals to two, and in the third, two to one. In the final canto Douglas Tire scored three to Jokers' one. Must Be Renewed Renewal of free miners' certificates must be made by May 31, the B.C. Mines Department today advises all mining interests.

All certificates representing property held under the "Mineral Act" and the "Placer Mining Act" must be renewed.

The fees are $5 for individual miners and $50 and $100 for incorporated companies.

The provisional free miners' certificate must not be confused with the ordinary free miners' certificate. Provisional free miners' certificates, issued free of cost under the "Provisional Free Miners' Certificates (Placer) Act" are good for staking a placer claim and recording it without fee.

Japanese Gradually Coming Off Pensions

Japanese in receipt of mothers' and old-age pensions will be kept on the pension lists until the B.C. Security Commission takes charge of them, Provincial Secretary Geo. S. Pearson said today.

There have been 10 Japanese mothers on pension in recent months. Four of these came off last month, when the Security Commission took charge of them. As the other six go under the commission's jurisdiction they will come off the provincial pension.

The same rule applies to Japanese old-age pensioners, of whom there are about 50 in the province.

"We have no desire to thoughtlessly throw these people onto the commission and as long as they are still not taken care of, they remain our responsibility," Mr. Pearson said. "I think that is the fair way to look at it, and I think that is what our people desire."

The status of all Japanese pensioners, however, changes the minute they come under the Security Commission.

U-drive Renting Restricted

Order Bans Taxi Trips Of More Than 15 Miles

Managers of Victoria taxi companies and firms renting U-drive cars today expressed some concern over wartime controls announced Tuesday by the Munitions and Supply Department on behalf of Transit Controller George S. Gray.

Managers said, however, they would make no changes until they have received instructions from Ottawa and the new regulations have been clarified.

Firms renting U-drive cars were most concerned over the order which prohibits renting of such an automobile by a person owning or controlling an automobile for which a gasoline license has been issued under rationing regulations.

COME FROM MAINLAND

Some managers suggested Victoria was in a unique position and deserved special consideration. Being on an island, Victoria firms have a large clientele of business men who have cars in other cities but do not bring them to Victoria. These men hire U-drive cars to do their business on the island. One manager said every morning boat brought some businessmen who wanted to hire cars.

As for the order confining hiring of U-drive cars to the hours between 6 in the morning and 11 in the evening, managers said it would have little effect on their businesses because only the old car was hired outside these hours. Firms will not be able to close their offices during the night, however, because the cars are returned at all hours.

The announcement said that except with Mr. Gray's consent the owner of a drive-yourself car must retain the gasoline coupon book issued for the car.

The new ruling on taxis prohibits the use of taxis as buses.

No Strawberries For Month Yet

Due to the cool and cloudy weather of the past month, Saanich strawberries will not appear in local stores until the first week of June, two weeks later than usual.

A survey of some of the leading berry growers of Saanich showed that plants were setting up well, although behind average years, when late April and May weather was warm and sunny and brought the berries right along.

Farmers would like sunshine now, and say that when the berries do ripen, they will do so quickly. Farmers figure the picking season will be short and concentrated with a crop that will compare favorably with past years.

However, the worry of sun-

Red Cross Campaign Passes $26,116 Mark

Victoria's Canadian Red Cross campaign rolling towards its $97,000 objective, had passed the $26,116 mark early today with canvassers still busy in all divisions.

The general appeal of the society, recognized in all countries as one of the most humanitarian organizations operating in wartime, appeared to have aroused a wide desire on the part of the public to accord it support as donations, large and small, continued to flow in.

Its work was indicated succinctly in a letter from a former Vancouver boy now a prisoner of war who bailed out of an R.A.F. plane over Berlin.

Writing to his father, the lad voiced thanks for Red Cross food which supplemented the meagre daily meal of one bowl of soup, three slices of bread, one ounce of margarine, a little jam, cheese or sausage which constituted the prisoners' fare.

He also gave thanks for Red Cross agencies which had restored to him his own shoes from England when the camp failed to provide size No. 12. The Oxford shoes were ordered through the Canadian Red Cross official in Berlin, through Switzerland to England and came through the same channel to their owner.

The campaign office today expressed appreciation for cheques of $1,000 turned in by the British Columbia Salvage Corps and for a like amount from the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion.

DONATIONS

Donations of $10 and more were acknowledged today from Scott & Peden $10, Hoyle Brown Ltd. $200, Kent-Roach Ltd. $25,

To Grow Vegetables At Army Forts, Camps

As a defence measure, Major Gen. R. O. Alexander, Commander-in-Chief, Pacific Defences, is encouraging growing of vegetables at forts and camps under his command, it was reported at an executive meeting of the Victory Garden Brigade Tuesday.

Members stressed the importance of planning now for autumn plowing of vacant land, so that over-winter crops could be planted. Persons with vacant land in their backyards were urged to offer such land to their neighbors, if they could cultivate it. New homeowners were advised to plant potatoes before they put in their lawns. In this way they would have a potato crop and also make the ground better for grass. Suitable land has been surveyed

And who, though absent, is just as dear.
—Sadly missed by her two dear children

More Restaurants
In Paris Blasted

BERNE (AP)—Two more restaurants used by the Germans in Paris have been bombed, advices from the occupied French capital said today.

Dispatches for two days have reported a series of bombings of Paris hotels used as barracks by the Germans, apparently a crescendo of anti-German demonstrations covering the last 10 days.

It was suggested these were inspired by the appointment of Maj. Gen. Oberg, one of the right-hand men of Gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler, as head of police in the Paris area.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE

QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hemroid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores, or any druggist, and use as directed. This formula which is used internally in a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not completely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

OUT OF JAVA—TWO JUMPS AHEAD OF THE JAPS—
With Japanese forces battling Java defenders eight miles from their home in Bandoeng, Flight Officer Paul Kranen-burg of the D.E.I. Air Force loaded Mrs. Kranenburg and their four children into his plane, flew them to safety. Mrs.
Kranenburg and the children, Hans, Charles, Paul Jr. and Willie, arrived in San Francisco with the first evacuees from Java and 800 Dutch fliers who will continue their training in America, return to fight the Japanese again.

Smith Known As
Scrappy Player

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmy
Smith, the fighting father-in-law of fighter Billy Conn, earned himself a lasting reputation in the major leagues as a fearless scrapper in the two-fisted era of the game.

He was a good enough infielder that Pittsburgh Pirates picked him as the successor to the immortal Honus Wagner at shortstop in 1916, but he hurt his ankle in the first game of the season and the fates brought him
a different fame.

Old-timers are full of stories about his escapades.

There was the time in 1921
when he was with the Phils. One night he went to Camden, N.J.,
to see Roy Steel, a great basketball player of the day.

Smith was in such a hurry to catch a ferry to beat the training curfew that he hopped on without a ticket. He became involved in a bloody battle with several dock policemen and ended up in jail with six stitches in his head.

TERRIBLE TEMPER

Teammates bailed him out and the following afternoon Smith played second base.

Most of Smith's encounters started as innocently as that.
He had, and still has, a terrible temper, but in his playing days he never drank nor smoked. He is 47 years old now, but looks 30.

'MAJOR BARBARA'
COMING TO YORK

Wendy Hiller, Robert Morley
and Rex Harrison share stellar honors in George Bernard Shaw's wittiest and most brilliant comedy, "Major Barbara," which will be at the York Theatre tomorrow through United Artists release.

"Major Barbara" was produced and directed by Gabriel Pascal, the impresario who was previously responsible for the worldwide success of "Pygmalion," the first full-length Shaw comedy to be transferred to celluloid.

"Major Barbara" was many months in preparation and many months in the making since Pascal insisted upon a hand-picked cast and since the original play was considerably rewritten, with many new scenes, by that master of biting and incisive wit, Shaw himself.

'SOUTH OF TAHITI'
PLAZA-OAK BAY

H. B. Warner, featured with Brian Donlevy, Brod Crawford,
Maria Montez and Andy Devine
at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres tomorrow, was for many years a reigning star of the silent screen and has appeared in more than 500 pictures.

Among his still-remembered hits were "Son of Sam," "King of Kings" and "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

In recent years he has essayed
any number of outstanding character portrayals, beginning with the part of the high priest in Frank Capra's "Lost Horizon."

In "South of Tahiti" Warner plays the part of a native chief on a jungle isle-paradise.

RIO THEATRE

Tyrone Power and Betty Grable used the most expensive set of all time in a scene for "A Yank in the R.A.F.," now at the Rio Theatre, which Darryl F.
Zanuck produced for 20th Century-Fox.

A $15,000,000 set, it consisted of 100 Lockheed Hudson bombers valued at $150,000 each.

Director Henry King had them use costly props, too. Betty sat on a turret that cost $10,000, and Tyrone helped carry a $20,000
motel.

"And how is your mother this morning, dear?" asked the caller.
"Oh," replied the little girl,
"she's not quite herself today,
thank you, with cook and that man Hitler!"

Sen Yung, Charlie Chan's "No.

Fox films based on the exploits of the Oriental detective, is probably one of the few people reap-

His latest featured role in the which, by the way, is not a Chan

nity in what will probably be the first of a number of films dealing with the war with Japan.

Since Japanese actors are at a restrictions of the Department of Justice, Sen is looking forward to playing both Chinese and Japanese nationals for the duration.

Dorothy Dix: Perfect Feminine Charm Very Potent Force

Dear Miss Dix: We hear a lot about certain girls possessing feminine charm. What is feminine charm? In what does it consist? Can it be acquired?

AGNES.

Answer: Well, daughter, it is one of the most potent forces in the universe, yet no scientist has ever been able to classify it or separate its component parts. It is the intangible something that makes the women who possess it draw men to them as the magnet draws the needle, and that enables them to get away with murder and all the minor crimes, yet it is as difficult to describe as the bloom of a rose or the perfume of a lily. In its essence it is perhaps femininity raised to its 'nth power, and when you say that, you are trying to explain one mystery by another.

It is hard to enumerate just the qualities that go to make up feminine charm. Looks are one of the ingredients. Not beauty necessarily. Never hard, cold, bold, handsomeness. But the woman who has feminine charm must be easy on the eyes and pleasant to look at. She must be exquisitely neat and dainty and her clothes must be soft and lovely and womanly. We may admire and respect a woman for her intelligence and her sterling qualities or character, but she throws away all of her feminine charm when she puts on breeches and gets herself up in imitation of a man. Nor would we ever speak of any slovenly and sloppy woman as having feminine charm.

MUST BE SWEET AND GENTLE

Manners also go into the making of feminine charm. To have feminine charm a girl must be gracious and considerate of other people's feelings. No woman who is rude, who says cutting and sarcastic things, who is loud-mouthed and quarrelsome can ever be described as having feminine charm.

The girl who has feminine charm must be sympathetic and understanding. She must be pitiful to all weak and helpless creatures. She must be kind to the old and tender to little children and have that something about her that makes you want to tell her your troubles. No hard-boiled girl who is cynical and disillusioned has any feminine charm. No woman who can fight her weight in wild cats, and who is aggressive in trying to get the best of everything for herself, who considers babies brats and thinks old people should be sent to a home for the senile, or who is a wisecracker, has any feminine charm.

The girl who has feminine charm is not necessarily better than her sister who lacks it. She is just different and somehow more attractive, perhaps she is more restful and more lovable and comes nearer to our ideal of what a woman should be.

Of course, feminine charm in its perfection is a gift, but an excellent synthetic brand may be made by any girl who will wear chiffons and mind her manners and cultivate a low, sweet voice.

Spain and Portugal Supply Most of World's Cork

Cork trees are in blossom this month, but you and I are not likely to see their blossoms. Almost all cork trees grow in countries which are hard to visit because they are in the war zones or very close to them.

Two countries which have been more or less "neutral" have most of these trees. Seven-tenths of the world's cork comes from Spain and Portugal.

Tunis, Algeria, France and Italy also produce cork, and some trees grow on islands of the Mediterranean sea, including Sicily. A few cork trees have been planted in southerly parts of the United States, but there are not many in the new world.

Cork is the bark of a special kind of oak tree. This tree has leaves which stay green all through the year.

Cork trees usually do not grow to a height of more than 30 or 40 feet. Now and then, however, they get to be from 50 to 60 feet tall.

The trunk of a cork tree may become very thick. At times the diameter of the trunk is five or six feet.

At the age of 15 or 20 years, the cork oak is stripped of its outer bark. When the large slabs of bark are taken off, the trunk looks very bare. A person might suppose that the tree would die, but that will not happen if the stripping is done in the right way. So long as the workmen do not cut through the inner bark, the tree will live, and will grow better bark than before.

Ten years later, the bark can be stripped again. Then comes another rest period, and then another stripping. The cork is even better at the time of the third stripping than at the second.

After the outer bark is taken off, it is boiled. The slabs are cut into strips, and these are put together in bales to be sent to market. The average tree gives only 45 or 50 pounds of cork at a stripping, but some do much better than that. One huge trunk yielded 500 pounds—a quarter of a ton—at a single stripping!

If you will think for a little while, you can probably list at least half a dozen ways in which cork is used. I may mention its widespread use for bottle stoppers and life-preservers. It goes into floats for fishermen's nets, and into inner soles of shoes. Artists use a substance made from burnt cork.

Some trees have kept on producing good cork until the age of 150 years. A cork tree may live 300 years, but its bark is not much good for cork after its 150th birthday.

Pirates Early Season Surprise

NEW YORK (AP)—Pittsburgh Pirates, who have upset most everyone's National League calculations by running a surprising second in the early weeks of the season, are about to get the acid test of their first long road trip. The Buccaneers played 20 of their first 52 games at home and how they will fare on their present junket, which started in Chicago last Saturday, is anybody's guess.

That is, it's anybody's guess except manager Frank Frisch, who won't predict.

"We're a bunch of funny bozos," exclaimed the flash, Tuesday. "I wish I had some idea how we would do on the road, but it would take a wizard to make heads and tails out of our gang."

"I've been waiting for weeks for some of these birds to start hitting, and Sunday we made 22 hits in a doubleheader at Chicago. But did you see what happened? We only made five runs on 22 hits and we darn near lost both games."

PRETTY GOOD CLUB

"But we've got a pretty good ball club. Defensively we're at least 50 per cent better than last year and we've been getting some good pitching in places."

Somebody asked Frisch whom he thought the Pirates had to beat to get on top, and he retorted:

"I don't think of any particular team, but you know the team that I think has to be stopped."

But if this was intended to be noncommittal, the effusive Frisch was not able to keep his opinion concealed long, for a few minutes later he rasped:

"Why doesn't somebody bump off those Brooklyn ones in a while and tighten this race up a little bit?"

It was pointed out that the Pirates are only 2½ games behind the Dodgers and are scheduled to invade Flatbush for a three-game series, starting day after Thursday, but Frisch replied: "We've got a game to think about Wednesday. You can't expect me to be thinking about a game we don't play till Thursday."

The Telephone Situation Is Serious

Operating under Government regulations, we are now drastically curtailing the installation of telephones. It is hardly necessary to go into details as to why the Government finds this restriction necessary. It is a story that is daily becoming more familiar to the Canadian people as they move steadily toward the "total war" which is necessary if we are to win.

By limiting the growth of our telephone system, we use less of the materials that are urgently needed for the war effort. By not asking the factories to make things for non-essential telephone service, we allow the workers and machines to spend more time in making things for war.

Naturally, a company which has built up its system until the ratio of telephones to population is the highest in any province of Canada regrets exceedingly that after advertising for years the advantages of the telephone it must refuse service to hundreds of people who desire it; but this is just one more sacrifice that must be made on the road to victory.

We have only a limited number of telephones left, and the shipments from the factory have almost ceased. We must conserve this supply of telephones to take care of essential services during whatever number of years the war lasts. The time may not be far distant when we will have to take out some non-essential telephones now in service. Extension telephones would probably be the first to be removed.

Our supply of wire and other materials is limited, and must be used for essential telephone service. Switchboards and automatic equipment are also becoming a problem. Telephones have been rapidly increasing in number; people have been telephoning more often; and conversations have become longer. All of these factors have created an increasingly large amount of telephone traffic, but it is now very difficult to make additions to switchboards and automatic equipment in order to handle this load. In several cases the buildings themselves are reaching the limit of their capacity, and we are not permitted to embark on any construction made necessary by non-essential telephoning.

What all of this means is that we must very largely get along with what we have for the duration of the war. In order that essential telephones may be served we must refuse service to a great many people; and we must go further than this and ask the public to use their telephones less and to make their conversations shorter.

In its Order No. 119 regulating telephone service, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board declares that "steel, copper, brass, rubber, zinc, nickel, tin and many of the other materials necessary to provide and maintain telephone service have, due to the exigencies of war, become so scarce as to require the rigid conservation of all existing stocks of such materials."

The order compels our Company to conserve our plant, equipment and facilities, and says that we are to provide service in the following order of priority:

1. Essential requirements of the armed services, producers of munitions and supplies of war and defence projects of governmental and other services and agencies related to the war programme or to the defence of Canada.
2. Requirements essential for the welfare of civil life in the community and the protection of public health and safety.
3. Other essential commercial and industrial requirements.
4. Other requirements.

Obviously the task of allocating the available facilities with a view to serving those most requiring telephone service is a difficult and unpleasant one. We can only say that we will endeavor to carry it out to the best of our ability.

We appreciate immensely the understanding way in which the people generally have accepted the new regulations in regard to telephone service, and we urge everyone who is contemplating any telephone move or installation to make inquiries about these regulations before making definite plans, in order to avoid later disappointment.
